New Hospital Goes On Barfield Hiway

Everglades Memorial Hospital—the new structure—will be constructed on a recently purchased nine-acre tract of land on Barfield Highway, according to an official announcement by the hospital board.

After careful consideration of costs and other feasibility studies, the Board has elected to construct the Hospital on a new nine-acre site on Barfield Highway, retaining and renovating the old building for additional hospital facilities. An increasing demand for nurses' living quarters can be fulfilled by using some of the old building for this purpose, the Board stated.

It was pointed out that costwise, acquisition of the new site was just as economical as the purchase of sufficient adjacent property to the present building, and did, in fact, give the hospital nearly three times the area it would have had if those properties had been bought. Anticipated future expansion and a critical need for adequate parking facilities as well as the possible plan calling for the four-laning of East Main Street (Highway 441) which might have rendered the site unsuitable for hospital use.

The change in site was highly recommended by the architects and engineers and concurrence was received from state and federal authorities who have now approved the new site on Barfield.

Last Rites Held W. A. Humphries

Funeral services were held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock for W. A. Humphries, 76, who died Monday in Pahokee. The services were held at the Methodist church in Pahokee with Rev. Briley officiating.

Mr. Humphries for many years was bridge tender at Port Mayaca and has a wide circle of friends who will regret to hear of his passing.

DICKSONS VISIT

Dr. Thomas Dickson and son Tommy of Athens, Ga., were recent visitors of his cousin, Mrs. Lee Wroten. The Dicksons are visiting Mrs. Dickson's parents in West Palm Beach during Christmas and plan to visit friends in Pahokee before returning to Georgia.

YOUR CAR TAG IS GOING TO COST YOU MORE IN THE COMING YEAR

In 1964 the individual car owner will pay increases ranging from $3.54—for a "D" tag—to $12.92—for a "WW" tag.

Owners of cars requiring plain tags will pay $22.17—an increase of $6.67 over the present fee of $15.50.

"W" tag owners will pay a $9.79 increase to $30.29.

Actually, tags will be sold this year for a 13-month period.

The 1963 legislature passed a law changing the renewal date from January to July. But it will be changed one month at a time until 1969.

The new fees include the cost of a 12-month tag plus a prorated cost of an additional month with a 50-cent service charge tacked on the end.

Here are tag fees:

- "D" tag, up from $10.50 to $14.04.
- Plain tag, up from $15.50 to $22.17.
- "W" tag, up from $20.50 to $30.29.
- "WW" tag, up from $25.50 to $38.42.

Okeechobee School Gets Glades Presents

Richard F. Hurt, President of the Pahokee Chamber of Commerce, assisted by his wife, who is president of the Pahokee Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service, took Christmas gifts from W. H. Vann, Inc., Everglades Growers Coop, and the Pahokee Woman's Club to the State School for Boys at Okeechobee last week.

Blanton & Unwin Are Low On Co. Bid

Blanton and Unwin, Pahokee building contractors, were low bidders on constructing a new CBS house and relocating the old caretakers house at the Glades Office Building. The bid was $12,631.00. Commissioner Rardin said that a new parking lot, with lights, is to be erected at the Office Building with construction work to be done by county forces. The new lot will give twice as much additional space as there is at present for parking use, Rardin said.

In the course of construction is a new installation of gas tank and pump to be used by the Sheriff's Department.

College Students Will Be Honored

The First Baptist Church of Pahokee will honor their College students in a special program on Sunday evening, December 29th, at 6:00 p. m. The Student Night at Christmas program is an annual feature of the Baptist Student Union Department of the Southern Baptist Convention.

The program at First Baptist will feature a number of students. The Multi-Age Choir will sing. Those taking part on the program are: Eugene Cooper, a Senior at Pahokee High School, will preside, Miss Rebecca Grimes, Florida State University; Miss Lynn Britton, University of Kentucky; Miss Linda Woofert and Miss Ruth Colvard, Stetson University.

The public is invited to hear these young people as they speak about their own Christian experiences on a college campus.

At 8:00 the young people will be the guests of Reverend and Mrs. Guthrie Colvard for a fellowship in their home.

Mrs. William E. Gilpin was the recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Casto while enroute to her home in Chicago, Ill., from a vacation in Nassau, BWI.

Bids Today For New A&P Market

Contractors in the Glades are awaiting bid opening today (Friday) for construction of a new A&P Store in Pahokee. The store will be located on the lots across the street from the Elks Club property. Officials of the company will announce the low bidder following perusal of the bids today.

Road Problems Confront Board

An unusual twist in right of way procurement this week, found the county commission buying right-of-way from itself—in effect taking money out of one budget pocket and putting it in another.

It came about because of restriction on Palm Beach International Airport property, owned by the county, but controlled by the Federal Aviation Authority.

The county needed right-of-way for widening Congress Ave., and it had to come from airport lands. The only way the commission was able to close the arrangement to deed the land to the state, was to take $5,420 from the road and bridge department budget and credit the amount to the airport fund, set aside for airport improvement and maintenance.

The commission Monday adopted a resolution making the necessary transfer and which will likely pave the way for opening of bids on the Congress Ave. Project sometime in February.

In other highway actions this week the commission:

Approved a right of way agreement with the state road department to acquire land for relocation of Okeechobee Road in West Palm Beach.

Heard that a 150 strip of Glades land sought from the state II Board, is not available at this time.

Authorized the county engineer to check county title to right of way for two Glades roads rights of way on which the South Florida Conservancy District wants to stockpile fill from canal dredging operations. The fill would be for county use without cost.

Took under advisement, a request from the state road department that the north end of AIA off Singer Island be closed to traffic while a bridge is replaced. The county has the alternative of authorizing construction of a detour around the bridge, to be built from county road funds.

The sugar boom continues in high gear in the Farming Region here on the eastern shore of Lake Okeechobee. Another mill and acreage to supply it now stand in the offing for 1964 grinding. Money matters have been worked out with the Columbia Bank of Cooperatives and enough cane has been planned to furnish the 3500 ton mill its daily capacity.

The latest concern is the Atlantic Sugar Association and the mill will be located in the old Gladeview area east of Belle Glade and will be furnished cane from and that 80 percent heretofore hasn't been farmed. The additional acreage has been in cattle or vegetable.

Daniel Construction Company of Jacksonville has Palm Beach county offices in Belle Glade preparatory to starting construction of the mill. Present plans call for the mill to be ready to grind on November 15, 1964.

Sam Knight, successful grower of Belle Glade, is president of Atlantic Sugar and Dr. Ralph Kidder is vice president and Claude Jones is secretary. Dr. J. Allen Baker is treasurer of the concern.

Funeral Services For R. C. Norman

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at the First Baptist Church in Belle Glade for Roy Charles Norman, 53, who died Saturday night.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Belle Norman, Belle Glade; five sons, Dale and Lynn of Pahokee, Gary, Larry and Kirby all of Belle Glade; three daughters, Miss Nancy Norman, Belle Glade, Mrs. Sarah Ann Buchanan, Tallahassee and Mrs. Betty Beard, West Minister, Md.; mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Norman, Ga., two brothers, Hoyt of Fort Smith, Va., and H. C. Jr. of Augusta, Ga.; three sisters, Mrs. W. W. McCurdy of Pahokee, Mrs. Louise Allgood and Mrs. Wilda Pitts, both of Tignall.

Here Is What Transpired At Monday's Meeting Of The Palm Beach County Commission

County Commissioners, facing a loss of state matching funds for development of fish management areas, voted to step up pace of the proposal in order to meet a Jan. 15 deadline.

The commission previously designated Lake Ida and Lake Osborne as fish management areas under a state wide plan offered by the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

The county group must have on paper, the type recreational developments it plans for the two lakes to qualify for matching funds. The board instructed the engineering and parks department to undertake a crash program with commissioners from the districts in which the lakes are located in an effort to meet the state deadline.

In another action concerning lakes and parks, the board authorized Commissioner Edward Bandlow to put out a call for landscape architects to draft some long range plans for development of John Prince Park.

In another matter concerning recreational areas, the board learned the Florida Inland Navigation District will furnish maps to the county showing lands available for sale. The commission asked about the lands with the idea of gaining additional waterfront property for park purposes.

Bloc except in foods or other commodities for immediate consumption. But it will be interesting to see which, if any, of our friends in the Free World are willing to take on some huge equipment orders on Russian terms.

Canada gave us a jolt in the kind of heat deal it made with the Soviets. There may be some other surprises in store for us from unexpected quarters. It will take some fast work on our part to prevent others from jumping the traces when juicy business contracts are in sight.

We can only hope that every Free World nation will exercise extreme caution on sales of machinery and equipment until the Communists give convincing proof they no longer threaten peace and freedom in the world.

As the DeGaulle's ultimatum, it isn't easy to evaluate the results if he should make good his threat to walk out of the Common Market. As this is written, frantic efforts are being made by representatives of the European Community to reach agreement on agricultural policy before the deadline.

Up to now, I believe, willingness to compromise their differences has accounted for the Common Market's phenomenal success. It would be strange, indeed, if agricultural problems should turn out to be insoluble.

If the Common Market can survive this test, prospects for its future development and expansion should be bright. I'm wondering, however, whether it will spell good news for our forthcoming tariff negotiations in the Spring.

We've already had a taste of what will happen if protectionist sentiment in regard to agriculture should rule decisions within the EEC. The "chicken war" resulted from imposition of duties other than tariffs, such as "variable levies", on poultry imports from the U. S.

It seems to me that if we are to hold access to the 6-nation European market on a fair basis, our representatives will have to insist on tariff negotiations as a package. To separate farm commodities from manufactured products at the bargaining table could mean the American farmer ends up on the short end of the deal.

India's food shortage is an important reason for Nehru's interest in finding a method to control that country's population. India's population of some 450 million, second only to that of Red China, is increasing by about 10 million a year. Instead of rising, food output has declined. National income is rising at the rate of only 2 per cent a year. It will have to increase at the rate of 7 per cent if the lowest one-fifth of the population is to have a per capita income equal to $4.20 a month by 1975.

To reduce population growth in a country like India is a formidable task. If it can be accomplished (Japan has made phenomenal progress in that direction) it will alleviate the fear that someday there'll be little more than standing room left in the world.

Three recent developments emphasize the growing importance of agriculture in world affairs. They could have an important effect on world peace. They are:

(1) Khrushchev's program to budget some $2 Billion rubles over the next seven years for greatly expanding the Soviet chemical industry, principally to boost fertilizer output.

(2) DeGaulle's ultimatum to the Common Market to agree on an agricultural policy by December 31, or he'll pull France out of the club.

(3) Nehru's announcement of plans for tackling population control in India.

When I was in Moscow last summer on a tour to observe agriculture on both sides of the Iron Curtain, the Soviet spokesman for the Agriculture ministry admitted to our group of Floridians the USSR would like to have some of our U. S. fertilizer.

Now Khrushchev proposes a grandiose program — it must be huge to fill a tremendous gap — to rebuild and modernize some 500 existing chemical plants and to purchase 200 more complete plants, probably from Western nations.

Mr. K. dangles a juicy bait before the eyes of western industrialists in his suggestion for spending a big chunk of money for heavy equipment. Also, he has sweetened it with a hint that his military and heavy industries budgets may have to be cut back so the USSR can concentrate on raising more food and increasing consumer goods output.

But he named two conditions for any countries which want to get it on this business: (1) They must grant long-term credits and (2) they cannot expect political concessions by the Kremlin.

As I've said before, I'm opposed to business with the Communist

Why should you buy
U. S. Savings Bonds when there are so many other good investments?

To help your country is one answer—and a good one.

But Bonds have other advantages that make them worth your consideration.

For instance, they offer you just about the easiest way to save money: either with the Payroll Savings Plan, where you just ask your employer to put part of your wages aside toward a Bond or through regular purchase of Bonds at your bank.

Another unique advantage of U. S. Savings Bonds is the way they stick with you. You can get your money any time.

But if you're like most people, you'll hang on to your Savings Bonds for the big things you want in your future.

And, of course, Bonds are a safe investment—as long as there's a United States of America.

Which brings us back to your country again. Bonds help defend freedom at a time when the enemies of freedom are stronger than ever.

Buy Savings Bonds. The banks or savings institutions that sell them don't charge you a penny for the service.

Keep freedom in your future with

A message from the Treasury of a free people

How to speak out for freedom today

Free men have never gone in much for silence. Even before the first thirteen States became United States, men were speaking for freedom loud and clear.

Today Americans speak out for freedom many ways—in Congress, in local government, in neighborhood activities. Some speak out for freedom in other languages, in other lands. And millions of Americans speak out for freedom every time they buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Every Savings Bond you buy is an investment in freedom. While you're saving money for your own family's future, you're helping Uncle Sam tend to the business of keeping men free today.

Perhaps you don't speak out for freedom in the same tone of voice when you buy a Bond as Patrick Henry did in his famous speech. But you speak every bit as surely. And every bit as proudly.

Why not speak out for freedom now? Buy Bonds at the bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Keep freedom in your future with
U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

Selections from the denominational textbook will include these lines: "Our Master taught no mere theory, doctrine, or belief. It was the divine Principle of all real being which he taught and practiced" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 26).
The Lesson is entitled, "Christian Science."

Address Report Is Due From Aliens

District Director Edward P. Ahrens of the Immigration and Naturalization Service stated that the annual alien address report program usually causes a sharp rise in the number of applications for naturalization.

The law requires all aliens in the United States, with few exceptions, to report their addresses each January. Throughout the United States, almost thirty percent more applications for naturalization are received during the months of January, February and March than are received during other months. Mr. Ahrens attributes this sudden rise to the Alien Address Report Program.

Aliens not required to make this report are diplomats, those accredited to certain international organizations and those who have entered temporarily as agricultural laborers.

Forms for making the reports will be available to aliens at all Post Offices and offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service during the month of January. Mr. Ahrens indicated that aliens desiring information concerning naturalization or similar matters should obtain the forms at an office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service where personnel trained in these fields will be available to answer inquiries.

Let Your Money Earn 4½% Payable Semi-Annual

New $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

Q: How does the new $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest rate benefit me?

A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns $18.75 into $25.00 fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months.

With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to $2\frac{1}{2}\%$ for the first year and a half; then a guaranteed 4% each year to maturity.

Q: When did the new rate become effective?

A: June 1, 1959.

Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought before June 1, 1959?

A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra $\frac{1}{2}\%$ from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period after June 1.

Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new rate?

A: Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.

Q: When my E Bonds mature, will they keep on earning interest?

A: Yes. An automatic 10-year extension privilege went into effect along with the new interest rate. This means your E Bonds will automatically keep earning interest after maturity.

Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old Bonds and buy new ones?

A: No. The automatic $\frac{1}{2}\%$ increase makes it unnecessary—and in almost every case it is to your advantage to retain your present Bonds.

Q: How are series H Bonds different from series E Bonds?

A: The chief difference is this: You buy H Bonds at full face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses, while E Bonds build a nest egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.

Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series H Bonds?

A: E Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00), $200 (cost $150.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $10,000 (cost $7,500.00).

H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They are priced at face value.

Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless way to save. The United States Government guarantees the cash value of your Bonds will not drop, that it can only grow.

Q: What if my Bonds should be lost, stolen or destroyed?

A: You can't lose. Every Bond purchased is recorded by the Treasury. If anything happens to your Bonds they are replaced—free.

Q: Where can I buy Bonds?

A: Buy E Bonds at any bank—it takes only a few minutes. Buy them automatically through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This Plan means you can have any amount you name automatically deducted every payday. The Bonds you buy by installments are delivered to you automatically, too. Your bank will take your order for H Bonds.

Q: How do I help strengthen America's peace power when I buy U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Peace costs money—money for military strength and for science. And money saved by individuals helps keep our economy sound.

YOU SAVE MORE THAN MONEY WITH U. S. SAVINGS BONDS

New PBIA Terminal Gets Green Light

What appeared to be a $1.5 million windfall flashed the green light this week for a county commission project to construct a new terminal at Palm Beach International Airport.

The county commission had originally intended to float a bond issue to underwrite cost of a new terminal, but this week Commission Chairman E. F. Van Kessel said it appeared that only a portion of the cost would have to be financed by bonds.

The windfall, an unexpected development, came about as a result of a meeting early in December between county officials and representatives of the Federal Aviation Authority which makes decisions on airport affairs.

When the county received International Airport from the government when the airforce moved out, the parcel included 640 acres of land located outside the airport proper but adjacent to the plant on the south of the Palm Beach Canal and bordering Congress Ave.

When asked by Van Kessel if the county could sell the land to help finance the new terminal, FAA officials were reported to have given the suggestion a favorable nod.

At the present time, the governmental agency is considering the land sale possibility and is also studying locations of three different sites suggested for the new terminal. Sale of the lands is expected to bring in excess of $2,200 an acre.

Meantime the commission received another break from a Miami firm of consulting engineers which had done a feasibility survey costing $8,200. The commission this week signed a new contract with the firm to do a bond feasibility study and part of the agreement was that the original price of $8,200 was sliced in half.

The firm said the county will benefit from further discounts if other contracts covering engineering, architectural work, etc. is awarded to the firm. A previous contract with the firm for the entire airport package was rescinded Monday in favor of the alternate agreement.

Accompanists were Miss Dorothy Lair, organist and Miss Alice Hurt pianist. William Casto served as Narrator for the Chancel choir.

Gun Permits To Get Collective Study

The county commission, which two weeks ago decided not to sign applications for permits to carry fire arms, decided to check further with the county solicitors office to see what future action should be taken.

A letter to the county attorney, from the solicitors office, said the solicitor would continue to prosecute non gun permit cases "with special emphasis on carrying concealed weapons such as pistols."

Pistols, the solicitor told the commission, are the primary threat to the people of Palm Beach County.

County Commissioner Paul Radin, the first to question the need for the commission to continue signing gun permits, volunteered to be a committee of one to confer with the solicitor, along with County Attorney Harry Johnston.

Miami Mayor Runs For Governor

Mayor Robert King High of Miami announced Monday that he will be a candidate for governor next spring. His announcement in part follows:

"Since the last session of the Florida Legislature, I have been hoping for the emergence of a candidate for the Governorship of this great state who would face the real issue confronting the people of Florida.

"Thus far, I have seen none.

"I am not sure that a candidate for governor can be elected from the platform on which I will stand.

"I am not certain that one can fight and win against the favored few who have dominated Florida politics. It has never been done before.
